Monday proved to be a busy day for officers. Officers finished briefing and immediately started to handle calls for service. During the day, TPD received a call from a school resource officer, requesting that other officers respond to a high school to assist with a female who was being suicidal. A female was making threats of committing suicide and threatened to assault staff. It was discovered that she has not taken her mental health medicine for 3 days. She did not want to get handcuffed or detained on a mental health hold. Multiple officers had to hold her down to keep her from hurting herself until AMR arrived to transport her to DMC. Officers later responded to a male who was seen punching his small dog. The male was a recent transplant from Oregon. He had an outstanding warrant and he was arrested for it. Animal Control is investigating possible animal cruelty, and the dog was taken by Animal Control for its safety until the male can have an animal hearing for its release.
